THE COURSE

The course at Portsea Golf Club, established in 1926, was shaped more by nature than machinery. It winds through dramatic sand dunes and Moonah forests, with wind and coastal views defining the experience.

For nearly a century, the course has evolved through collaborations with esteemed course architects, such as Alex Russell, Sloan Morpeth, Mike Clayton, and most recently, Ogilvy, Cocking & Mead. These enhancements have focused on refining holes to offer players enhanced strategic shot choices and options. With widened fairways, reimagined bunkers, and reshaped greens, the course today encourages creative play and strategic ground approaches.
